

THE DEPARTMENT OF RELIGIOUS STUDIES INVITES YOU TO THE

2012 DAVID L. DUNGAN MEMORIAL LECTURE

The Noise of Democracy: Faith, Faithlessness, and the Country In Between

Jeff Sharlet has done some of the most important writing and research on US religion and politics in the past few years. Scholars as well as people in the journalism world cite his work, particularly The Family. His latest book, Sweet Heaven When I Die: Faith, Faithlessness, and the Country In Between, has been called “sharp and intimate” by Rolling Stone and compared to the work of Joan Didion and Norman Mailer by The Washington Post. Sharlet is also the author of C Street, and he is a contributing editor to Rolling Stone and Harper’s. He teaches creative nonfiction at Dartmouth College.
