Professor Rosalind Hackett

Head of department of Religious studies

University of Tennessee, Knoxville, TN, USA

Dear Professor Rosalind Hackett

INTEGRATION INTO ERINMO KINGDOM: PROF Rosalind OYERONKE ANIKE Hackett

My dear friend, adviser and confidant Prof Akinola Ibidapo-Obe has told me of your love for and respect of Yoruba tradition. He has also told me of the very important work you have been doing to promote greater understanding and respect for African tradition and religion in order to ensure religious harmony here in Nigeria and other countries of the world. This is commendable and uplifting indeed.

The occasion of your birthday today has presented a wonderful opportunity to recognize and salute your fearless effort by giving you a Yoruba name.

By the powers conferred on me as the paramount monarch of Erinmo Kingdom, I hereby name you OYERONKE (meaning the throne has found a daughter to love and cherish) and your Oriki will be ANIKE (meaning we cherish having you) by this name you are welcomed and lovingly integrated into the Erinmo community and the Yoruba nation as a whole.

Please accept the assurances of my highest regards

HRM OBA (DR) MICHAEL ODUNAYO AJAYI, Arowotaway II
